What are your rights?

(a) The right to access:

You have the right to confirm whether or not we process your personal data and, where we do, to access that personal data together with certain additional information. That additional information includes details of the purposes of the processing, the categories of personal data concerned and the recipients of the personal data. Providing the rights and freedoms of others are not affected, we will supply to you with a copy of your personal data.

(b) The right to rectification:

You have the right to have any inaccurate personal data about you rectified and, taking into account the purposes of the processing, to have any incomplete personal data about you completed.

(c) The right to erasure:

In some circumstances, you have the right to the erasure of your personal data without undue delay. Those circumstances include: (1) the personal data being no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which the data was collected or otherwise processed and (2) you are no longer a club member and wish the data not to be held for our standard 2 year period. Please note a request for data erasure for a current member would require that member to forfeit membership. The data is required for the club to fulfill its obligations.

(d) The right to restrict processing:

In some circumstances, you have the right to restrict the processing of your personal data. Those circumstances are as follows: you contest the accuracy of the personal data; processing is unlawful but you oppose erasure; we no longer need the personal data for the purposes of our processing, but you require personal data for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; and you have objected to processing, pending the verification of that objection. Where processing has been restricted for these reasons, we may continue to store your personal data. However, we will only process it in the following circumstances: with your consent; for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person; or for reasons of important public interest.

(e) The right to object to processing:

You have the right to object to our processing of your personal data for direct electronic communications purposes. If you make such an objection, we will cease to process your personal data for this purpose.

(f) The right to data portability:

You have the right to receive your personal data from us in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. However, this right does not apply where it would adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

(g) The right to complain to a supervisory authority:

If you consider that our processing of your personal information infringes data protection laws, you have a legal right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners Office.

<https://ico.org.uk>

(h) The right to withdraw consent.

To the extent that the legal basis for our processing of your personal information is consent, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time. Withdrawal will not affect the lawfulness of processing before the withdrawal.

You may exercise any of your rights in relation to your personal data by written notice to us.
